

GOOD PROGRAMS AND BREEZE GO TO MAKE SHOW

Bookings at Local Theaters for Coming Week Present Cream of Summer Entertainments.

The cool evenings have stimulated interest in the theater goers of the city and the announcement of coming plays is looked forward to not only by those who are regular in their attendance but by occasional visitors.

Those who are not employed find much enjoyment in spending their long hot afternoons under the breezy fans in the theaters. Managers of local play houses are doing their utmost to give amusements for those who are to remain at home during the summer that will equal foreign entertainments.

"The Man Unconquerable."
She alone could do it!
And Kendall, roused from the quiet of law and order, to the dominating fury of "The Man Unconquerable" knew that he would always seek and crave the smile of Rita Durand. To him her word was law—her scorn, Hell and her smile Heaven!

She it was who had whipped him into the action of ruling the scum of nations which the seas had cast onto their island. She it was who believed in him when he was accused of his father's murder.

And in the end, what was it to be? In what manner did this strange romance of the languorous South Sea end? See the stirring answer at the Adelphos Tuesday and Wednesday.

Hush Money
Larry Wheat, who plays opposite Alice Brady in "Hush Money" was turned to the screen direct from a seven years' experience in musical comedy.

He first appeared in George Ade's "The College Widow," which established Elsie Janis as a star; next he was heard in "You're In Love," "Oh Lady, Lady," "Just Out of College," "Going Some," and he followed George M. Cohan in "Fifty Miles From Boston."

What Destroys Life?
In "The Unfoldment," a powerful drama of truth and regeneration, a title says that it is not the disease, but neglect of the remedy which generally destroys life, and then the story, by James Caudwell and Reid Heustis, shows how a beautiful girl was pronounced crippled for life. She would never walk again, they said. Nurse doctor and father warned her of the danger of trying to walk. And so she never did until there came a moment of such overwhelming joy that she must walk—and she did!

"Nancy From Nowhere"
Babe Daniels the "good little bad girl" of the screen, has temporarily forsaken her mischievous ways and in "Nancy From Nowhere," which opens next Thursday at the Adelphos theater will be seen as a shy and wistful orphan girl.

Norma's Coming!
Every man, woman and child who attends motion picture theaters has come to look longingly for a Norma Talmadge picture, for she will awaken every fine element in their emotions as well as appeal to their artistic appreciation. In addition, every Norma Talmadge picture is based on a well known play or story, and is acted by a cast that really merits the description of "all star." In this respect "The Way of a Woman," which is to be shown at the Liberty theater, is a typical Talmadge offering, for it is founded on the famous stage play, "Nancy Lee," by Eugene Walter, one of America's foremost dramatists, and the supporting cast boasts such names as Mae McAvoy, and Conway Tearle.

This Bride Was Lenient.
As a generous bride who always lets her husband have his own way—but insisted upon having it with him!—Wanda Hawley is getting the laughs this week in "Too Much Wife" at the Adelphos theatre.

When she heroically resolves to be her husband's pal in everything, and firmly insists upon accompanying him to ball games, prize fights, poker parties and fishing trips, she innocently spoils her husband's amusements and makes the poor bewildered chap wonder why he ever gave up his bachelor freedom.

"Western Speed."
"Lynch him!" was the cry of the offender heard in the days when "Red" Kane was a cowhand at the Box S ranch. Lynch law prevailed, and the man who stole a horse, robbed a stage, or murdered a man suffered by it. In those old days of the west, it seemed that the rope was ever-ready to be thrown over the stoutest limb of the nearest tree. Just how it was used and

DREAMS MAKE HIM ACROBAT

TOLEDO, Ohio.—Wayne Shepherd, 12, no longer believes it profitable to mix rosy dreams of a profession as a circus acrobat with too much apple pie.

For Wayne, home from the circus, where the bespangled performers had leaped and twisted on lofty bars, lunched on pie before retiring.

Dreams! Of himself as a circus acrobat, naturally. And, sound asleep, Wayne got up out of bed removed the screen from his bedroom window and hurried himself in a front somersault out of the second story.

A telephone wire broke his fall and dropped him, feet foremost, on the ground, unhurt and still asleep. He started back up the cave-spout and was half way up the side of the house when he was awakened by the shouts of his mother, who had heard the commotion and hurried into his room to learn the cause.

It took a moment for the sleepy Wayne to realize what it was all about. And then he hurried back to bed—by way of the stairs.

"Never again," he says.

the causes that made it appear are vividly portrayed in Charles Jones' latest Fox picture, "Western Speed," which comes to the Princess Tuesday.

CALOMEL MAY TURN ON YOU NEXT TIME

Next Dose You Take May Salivate and Start World of Trouble.

Calomel is mercury, quicksilver. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headache, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tonic straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate—adv.

TAFT IS SHINING STAR AS POPULAR MAN IN ENGLAND

Reporters Learn Word 'Chuckle' Since Chief Justice Went Abroad; Rivals Admiral Sims in Places.

LONDON.—Chief Justice Taft is the only American visitor to England in the last few years who has rivalled Admiral Sims in popularity with the British public. To those who knew Mr. Taft in his presidential years he proved a disappointment in the point of physical dimensions, but to those who met him for the first time he was a delightful surprise. His unflinching good humor, genial smile, and unassuming ways are quite distinct from the mental picture the average Englishman carries of one occupying a high judicial rank.

Lord Birkenhead, Britain's youngest lord chancellor, being a recent exception.

The word "chuckle" has been more commonly heard and seen in England since Mr. Taft's advent, as the reporters aver this is the only term adequately descriptive of the jovial noises with which the chief justice gives his auditors warning that he is on the verge of telling another anecdote. A theatrical manager, sensing the word's enhanced value, has brought out a show entitled "chuckles."

President Harding May Operate Mines in An Emergency

WASHINGTON.—President Harding considers that he has power as chief executive of the United States to operate coal mines in an emergency, he said Friday at the White House. There was no statement, however, as to whether the executive considers the present such an emergency but the existence of power in the government for purposes has been definitely determined in the minds of responsible officials, it was indicated.

About the only risk that a president could run in drastic action of the kind involved in controlling coal mines to get them operated would be that of impeachment, a spokesman for the administration said, and President Harding, it was said, is willing to take the risk if he considers it necessary to serve the public welfare.

Many a bird has found out that to "say it with flowers," would have been cheaper than saying it on paper.

WEATHERMAN

Don't Let the Other Fellow Tell You; Remember This and Watch Things.

A Rising Barometer
The following rules for foretelling the weather have been compiled by the World Almanac from the best official sources here and abroad:

A rapid rise indicates unsettled weather.

A rise with dry air and cold increasing in summer indicates wind from the northward; and if rain has fallen better weather may be expected.

A rise with moist air and a low temperature indicates wind and rain from the northward.

A rise with southerly winds indicates fine weather.

A steady barometer with dry air and seasonable temperature indicates a continuance of very fine weather.

A Falling Barometer
A rapid fall indicates stormy weather.

A rapid fall with westerly wind indicates stormy weather from the northward.

A fall with a northerly wind indicates storm, with rain and hail in summer, and snow in winter.

A fall with increased moisture in the air, and heat increasing, indicates wind and rain from the southward.

A fall after very calm and warm weather indicates rain with squally weather.

The barometer rises for northerly winds. The barometer rises for north winds, including from northwest by north to the eastward for dry, or less wet weather.

GIRLS! Short Sleeves

Make it necessary to have attractive white arms. There is nothing like Derwillo, the instant beautifier, for this purpose. All the girls are using it, it gives the hands and arms a soft, smooth, beautiful, bly white appearance.

Derwillo also acts as a protection against freckles, tan and sunburn. It stays on until you wash it off; is not affected by perspiration and its use cannot be detected.

Try it on one hand and arm, and then compare it with the other. This will give you an idea of the startling change it will make in the appearance of your hands and arms.

A single trial and you will never be without it. Derwillo comes in 3 shades: flesh, white and brunette. Use flesh or brunette on your face and white on your neck, chest, hands and arms. Try it today, and then note the favorable comments of your friends. On sale at all toilet counters. Sold by City Drug Store—adv.

ther, for less wind, or for more than one of these changes, except on a few occasions, when rain, hail or snow comes from the northward with strong wind.

The barometer falls for southerly wind, including from southeast by south to the westward, for wet weather, for stronger wind or for more than one of these changes, except on a few occasions, when moderate wind, with rain or snow, comes from the northward.

The Almanac contains much other weather data, revised yearly, including temperature and rainfall tables for New York City and for every important state and city in the United States and all over the globe.

Weather Wisdom.

A gray, lowering sunset, or one where the sky is green or yellowish green, indicates rain. A red sunrise, with clouds lowering later in the morning, also indicates rain. A halo occurring after fine weather indicates a storm. A corona growing smaller indicates rain; growing larger, fair weather. A morning rainbow is regarded as a sign of rain; an evening rainbow, of fair weather. A deep-blue color of the sky, even when seen through clouds, indicates fair weather; a growing whiteness an approaching storm. Fog indicates unsettled weather. A morning fog usually indicates a clearing of the atmosphere, brightness or twinkling of the stars, indicate rain. The first frost and last frost are usually preceded by a temperature very much above the mean.
